Leadership for the Education Field

Dr. Steve Graham is a Senior Consultant for Triangle Associates. He served as Senior Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs at the University of Missouri System from 2002 to 2021, providing leadership for academic and faculty affairs issues across the multi-campus UM System. He is a Professor in Educational Leadership and Policy Analysis at the University of Missouri (MU). He has over 30 years of experience in higher education as an administrator, professor, and consultant. He consulted to many universities including the Tennessee Board of Regents, University of Houston, Ohio University, Utah Valley University, University of Alabama-Birmingham, University of Missouri-St. Louis, as well as extensive training and evaluation work in business settings including AT&T and Data Storm.

Dr. Graham has written approximately 100 articles or papers on a variety of topics including academic quality, cultural and organizational changes in higher education, leadership development, and manager coaching. His book, Academic Quality Work, was co-authored with William Massy and Paula Short. His current research efforts focus on the dramatic changes occurring in higher education and their impact on traditional public universities. His two most recent books include Volatility in Higher Education: An Anthropological Perspective, published in 2018, and a 2021 book entitled Paths to the Future of Higher Education, both co-edited with Brian Foster and Joe Donaldson.

Dr. Graham's undergraduate degree is from Coe College, and he received a Ph.D. from the University of Iowa. He and his wife, Jill, live in Columbia, Missouri.
